Today Thirteen Special Issues Lose In Balloting

DEMOCRATIC, AND DRY

A SURPRISE FOR SMITH

Republicans have lost control of congress, and from now on the Democrats will be responsible for ending a depression which they have attributed to Republicans.

The Anti-Saloon League however still controls both houses and so far as any action concerning prohibition is concerned last Tuesday's election promises to remain a gesture.

Europe is much pleased with what it considers a repudiation of prohibition by the United States; German brewers shares mounted rapidly in value when the news came. Italian and French wine growers were delighted, hoping for unrestricted shipments to the United States.

These hopes are destined to wither. If any change is made in the Volstead act, which is a very big "if," it will certainly not include unlimited alcoholic shipments from abroad.

Sir Arthur Balfour, British steel magnate, goes home to report that liquor was actually forced on him in the United States and that "before prohibition American girls never drank at all. Today they drink whenever they can get hold of it. In 1896, when I was in America, a young man would not go out with a girl who drank. Nowadays unless a man brings a drink, a girl will not go out with him."

That is not complimentary to our young people, but unfortunately it is true. Girl students at the New Jersey college for women at New Brunswick, seized among others, when prohibition agents raided a speakeasy, are suspended. Nice picture of college life. The speakeasy owner was fined $400, perhaps one day's profit, which shows that this country doesn't take its constitution or laws very seriously.

An earnest mother whose son is going to be a football player, breaking fingers and larger bones and injuring his spine in the process, wants "editorial help to make this brutal sport seem less important in the eyes of young people."

Editorial help would not help. It is true, as the mother says, that football was never played by Socrates, Napoleon, Spinza, Washington, Lincoln, or any other great man.

FIVE BANDITS HOLD UP TRAIN, STEAL $55,000

Robbers Flee In Automobile Armed With Machine Guns

(By Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 7.—Southern Pacific passenger train number 36, bound from Oakland to Tracy, Cal., was held up by five armed men at Nobel today and robbed of an undetermined amount of cash and valuable mail. The amount was reported variously at $40,000 to $55,000 in cash and 10 to 15 bags of registered mail.

Nobel, a small settlement a few miles north of Berkeley, is not a regular train stop.

A man boarded the train at Berkeley as a passenger and held up the engineer and fireman at Nobel and stopped the train. There he was joined by four other men waiting in a motor car. While one man held the trainmen at bay the others rifled the mail and baggage car.

The sedan carried two mounted machine guns. One of the robbers had a shot gun and the others carried automatic pistols. After taking all they considered of value they escaped in the automobile.

Authorities broadcast a report of the holdup, sending officers to guard roads for miles around.

On the train was reported to be $40,000 to $55,000 in cash consigned by the Federal Reserve bank in San Francisco to the American Trust company branch in Pittsburgh for the Columbia State Works there to use in meeting its payroll.

TOLL IN BLAST AT MILLFIELD MAY REACH 81

Bodies Of 79 Miners In Temporary Morgues In Athens

TWO ARE MISSING IN LATEST CHECK

Officials Begin Investigations To Determine Cause

(By International News Service)

MILLFIELD, Nov. 7.—Death toll of Ohio's worst mine disaster, the explosion at mine No. 6 of the Sunday Creek Coal company, near here, may reach 81. Paymaster Pearl Hill told International News Service today.

The bodies of 79 miners were in three temporary morgues at this little mining village, in mortuaries at Athens, near here, and in the victims' own homes.

Two other miners have not been accounted for. Paymaster Hill declared, upon completion of a recheck of the company's payroll for Tuesday, the day a terrific gas explosion rocked the mine.

The missing miners, both of whom Hill said may be dead, were Paul Erwin, a loader, and John Wise, also a loader. Searching parties immediately started combing the honeycomb like passages of the shattered coal mine for some trace of Edwin and Wise.

(By Associated Press)

MILLFIELD, Nov. 7.—Millfield today laid its dead back in the earth that killed them while officials began their investigation to determine the cause of the mine explosion which claimed at least 79 lives.

Federal state and county officials each sought to learn what caused the blast in the No. 6 mine of the Sunday Creek Coal company and the release of gas which filled the

POISON LIQUOR FATAL TO SIX IN UNIONTOWN

Alcohol Found In Stomachs Of Victims

(By International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 7.—The death toll in Uniontown's "poison liquor mystery" mounted to six today with the discovery of two more bodies on the outskirts of the city.

Pathologists at Uniontown hospital reported that unmistakable evidence of wood alcohol was found in the stomach of at least three of the victims.

The death toll: Norman Lehighy, 50; John Pastorous, 50; Lloyd Maust, 35; Harry Huey, 56; Clyde Williams, 42, and Charles Uglow, 46.

Where the liquor was obtained and whether all six victims had partaken of the same draught were questions puzzling authorities.

First post-mortem results indicated the men had drunk automobile radiator alcohol. District Attorney J. B. Adams declared today that first degree murder charges would be preferred against the man who sold the alcohol if his identity is learned.

Another angle being investigated was the report that the chemical room in the basement of the Central fire house had been looted. Huey's body was found in the building housing the fire department.

Too Many Debts, Girl Shoots Self

ALLIANCE, Nov. 7.—Miss Maxine McGowan, 29, of 859 Devine street, department store clerk, who is in the City hospital with a self-inflicted bullet wound above the heart, was reported today to be recovering.

The girl shot herself while seated in an automobile with Evelyn Kealey, a girl friend, at a roadside just west of Alliance.

She told police she shot herself "because I have too many debts."

William Adams and Kenneth Brogan, with the girls, sped to City hospital with the wounded girl.

JUST ANOTHER FATALITY

Americans are inclined to be surprised when men lose their lives in election-day fights, despite the fact that there is an annual toll. In Kentucky last Tuesday four men were killed outright and one was wounded. Unseen by many perhaps buried intentionally in other news was this item.

Ward Hatfield, 35, was slain in Pike county. Officers arrested Elias Dotson, 50, and said an old quarrel between the two had arisen while they were working in the election.

As far as it is known it will be just another fatality, but those who have heard of the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud know that once the killing of a Hatfield would have thrown scores of Pike county, Kentucky, mountaineers on guard. Bearded men would have ridden the mountain trails with cocked Winchester rifles, while their women folks and children peered through chink holes in their cabins.

Time after time the feud, having died down, was rekindled by a drunken brawl and murder at the polls. "Devil Anse" patriarch of the Hatfields, would send a few clansmen across the tug in a gesture of friendliness, an argument would start and the feud would be on full force again.

Today, however, the killing of a Hatfield means little more than the killing of a Smith. The law takes its course and what bitterness there is gets lost in the enlightenment which the mountaineers have received since the feud days. One observer points out that a Hatfield and a McCoy are playing side by side on a southern football team this year and members of both clans have fought side by side since the days of "Devil Anse" and "Old Ran'l."

THE OUTSTANDING AUTHOR

It has been rumored for many months that the coveted Nobel prize in literature might be awarded to an American in 1930 for the first time since Alfred B. Nobel of Sweden established the $9,000,000 prize fund in 1895. Theodore Dreiser, an excellent workman, and recognized internationally as such, was mentioned frequently, as also was Sinclair Lewis, less a workman but more outstanding as a typical American author.

Mr. Lewis has received the prize amounting to almost $47,000. He admits he is excited over the honor of being the first American to be set apart from his fellow literary craftsmen in such a way and, unlike the victorious politicians who are occupying so much attention at the moment, is obliged to congratulate no one—not even to thank anyone, since the prize is awarded for excellence and not good fortune.

One wing, or perhaps more than one wing, of the literary world elevates its nose at the selection of Mr. Lewis. They will call attention to his vigorous, rough-and-ready journalistic style, the broad strokes of his word pictures, the sacrifice of detail to sweeping lines. They may compare his products with the products of other possible prize winners to Mr. Lewis's discredit. In fact, one may be certain that there will be displeasure and that Mr. Lewis will hear about it.

But, and it is characteristic of the impression Mr. Lewis has made on the public that such a provisory statement will be made, there is more to the Nobel prize than honor—and that helps the much-criticized author. He may not be the greatest writer of his generation, but he is the outstanding author of 1930—and $47,000—odd testifies to the fact.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Wakefulness A Hand
Getting the right kind of sleep for the most of us is a really great problem. With the complex lives we lead, simple habits of sleep are difficult to follow.

Our habits have much to do with our ability to sleep well. Depend upon the physical and mental well being of you have some physical disability or small you may go sleepless for many nights. Broken sleep for a few days may fix the habit of not sleeping well. Fear, worry, and great mental and emotional strain are responsible for thousands of cases of insomnia, as inability to sleep is called.

To have sound sleep the surroundings must be right. In the first place if it is at all possible, every person should have a separate sleeping room. Peace and quiet come from such an arrangement.

You should have a wide and comfortable bed. Good springs should be used but not too soft a mattress. A mattress that allows the curves of the body to repose naturally is the sort of thing that promotes rest.

A glaring light of any sort will keep you awake. On this account the dull finished bed is better than the glittering metal one. It is well to have the bedroom furnished with dull finished furniture in general. Shut out the glaring morning light by having dark window shades. A darkened room, with the minimum noise, is the ideal for sound sleep.

It is true that mental workers require more sleep than those who do physical work. In scientific tests upon college students it was shown that the feelings the day after are no sure sign of how beneficial sleep has been.

These tests did show that during the first part of the night the important rebuilding process takes place. During the latter part of the night there is greater muscular relaxation. In the case of the student who gets but six hours' sleep instead of the eight which normal persons usually require, it was found that full restoration of vigor did not occur. With lack of sleep it was necessary to expend twice as much energy to accomplish the same amount of mental work.

It is difficult for young people to realize what habits for good or bad may mean in later life. Irregular habits of sleep very often lead to chronic wakefulness. We are free agents and can do as we please, but if we neglect our physical needs it is usually at the expense of good health. We may be very sure that the habits we form will haunt us or cheer us all through our lives.

Any great mental or emotional strain, or too exciting relaxation in the evening hours may drive away sleep. If the wheels in your head continue to turn after long hours of day time mental work, try taking more muscular exercise. A brisk walk before bedtime stirs up sluggish circulation and makes for sound sleep. If you are not bodily tired, you will probably have a sleepless night.

Sometimes the quieting of the mind by the reading of an absorbing but not too exciting book causes mental relaxation. This results in a stupor that brings on restless sleep.

The ideal way to sleep is to recline on one side with the body slightly bent but not all curled up in a hard knot. Go to bed to sleep and not to solve all your financial or domestic worries.

What Others Say

THE GREEN CROSS, A NEW SYMBOL

Since the dawn of Christianity the cross has been the symbol of love, mercy and success. It is utilized not only for ecclesiastical purposes, but for other fields of human endeavor where rescue of the perishing is the prime purpose. Thus we have the red cross, sign of mercy for animals, particularly the poor, dumb victims of war.

Now comes a new symbol, the green cross, which the Manchester Guardian tells us is to stand for the protection of countryside where man, in the name of progress or through his ignorance and heartlessness, is moving down a vegetable life with small regard for beauty or his own future welfare. To the rescue of trees, particularly flowers and shrubs will come the little army moving under the banner upon which is emblazoned the sign of the green cross.

Just as we welcome the trend toward greater kindness to humans and to animals, we find great cause for satisfaction in this movement to extend the hand of mercy to growing things. There seems to be a definite need for it, if the existing beauty of lane and countryside is to be preserved. The ruthless hand of the woodman and the despoiler of nature must be stayed, or we shall be forced to look out upon a cold and barren world before many decades.

Paraphrasing the tentmaker, what can the hand of man create that is half so precious as the gifts of nature that he destroys with such abandon? Nothing we believe. But we forge thoughtlessly ahead, exchanging a clump of ancient trees for a gaudy filing station, a hedgehog for a brick wall and a flower-carpeted chair for a real estate sub-division. Success to the green cross, which hopes to salvage a bit of God's handiwork from the path of civilization's steam roller—Columbus Dispatch.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of Nov. 7, 1910)

Washington, D. C.—The population of Youngtown, according to the thirteenth census, is 79,073. The twelfth census gave it as 41,885 and the eleventh 33,220.

For the first time this season, the Salem High school football squad was forced to lower its colors when Beaver Falls High defeated the Red and Black by a score of 17 to 0 on the latter's ground Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth England, Benton road, celebrated her 82nd birthday Sunday when 30 relatives gave her a surprise.

Miss Emma and Mary Duffus returned Saturday evening from a month's visit with relatives in Boston, New York and Bangor, Me.

The Stars Say

A rather contradictory state of affairs is forecast from the conflicting positions of important planets governing this day. While things will be lively and constructive with the prospect of launching new projects and making progressive changes, yet an element of duplicity, treachery and strategy or subtly prevail. The personal relations may also prove disturbing or unsatisfactory.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of fused or conflicting issues, with much enterprise and constructive initiative, but these may be subject to the menace of treachery, subtly as underhand activities. Personal affairs may also give concern or prove a cause for anxiety or friction.

A child born on this day should be resourceful, enterprising, ingenious and adventurous, but it may be given to and subject to crafty and underhand methods of winning its success.

It is curious that as soon as a gangster is killed the police know all about his record, but as long as he is alive they just can't get a thing on him—Detroit Free Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Thoughts while strolling. Who remembers when a family was considered rich if their children had a pony? Perry Belmont looks like his brother August. Nifty dresses in all-black suits and bright ties. Another Ship Grill on East 47th. The sundown gint from the Chrysler spire.

Daniel Friedman has a beard like a cuke. Safe window card: "All the coffee you can drink for 10 cents." Page 4. Damon Ranyoni's shadowy tea room where you can't see which wife is with what husband. Paul Whiteman wears double-breasted coats exclusively. And always a lapel flower.

Gilbert Gabriel, a Brooklyn, N. Y. boy, who made good in the Citron is now a fashionable color.

All night movies were directed by 25 cents sleep and look at pictures until daylight. Child's were foolish to do away with so many flap-jack window jugglers. It was a swell ad.

These rowdy one-armed lunch-rooms where no one removes his hat. Patrick Cain, the theatrical warehouse man. As well known as any producer. Ambulance doctors who swing off the wagons puffing cigarettes. Sidewalk artists near the library wall. The longest blink in town—42nd between 5th and 6th.

The stocking shop with only leg-headed clerks. Busy. Busy. Busy. Lunches where nannies eat. Dapper lads with wisps of waxed mustaches and huge silver rings. At least a hundred guys in this town look like Grover Whalen. Whenever I see a window blind lowered I want to peep.

That grifter who sells pencils and says he is the son of an illustrious actor. And resemblance is striking.

Turban-like Natcha Ramova's Ramones in clubs at dusk wearing Tuxedos and looking hopeful. Move over, gent! Valerie Edwards, a former London Gaiety girl. Now a miniature painter.

How do people live who depended on brewery dividends? A xylophone studio. Colored gravel for pent-house gardens. There's a cancer-dyeing gravel. Rocky who is said to look like Napoleon. Everybody looks like someone else today. And off comes the overalls, there's the whistle!

From San Francisco zip another Wilson Mizner story. A waiter in a cafe upturned a bowl of soup down Mizner's neck. Jumping up to shake himself Mizner cried: "Listen, you thousandth, even a seal can jug-gle."

A New York reporter knocks out two thirds of a column about a man adopting the puppy of a dog destroyed for attacking him. And there never was such a journalist.

restraint. Not once did he knit in a line about the hair of the dog etc.

Quotations from a Bowery hash-ery reads: "Potage noodle—8 cents." A few steps away an upstairs lodging house proclaims: "Pre fix—35 cents a night." That blooze is the good old Bowery going continental.

Tenth avenue is dotted with the gaudy vests of the carnival crowd returned for winter hibernation. Two summers ago a carnival man wrote me: "Every game can be gaffed." The "gaffed" was a little deep, but inquiry developed he meant every game could be fixed so it was impossible to beat it. He added: "Wall Street is gaffed!" And if the moaning is symbolic he may be right.

Vagrant thought: Nothing is so pleasant as a well-stuffed New York apartment running along smoothly, but there is something ominous about the way the doors are being slammed in the kitchen the past hour. I hope its the mice.

In Central Park this afternoon a low numbered—the sign of swank—limousine drew up near an open space. A liveried footman hopped out to open the door, a French garnish and two Eton collared shavers stepped onto the ground. And in two minutes were rolling dice, New York!

An invitation to a Newark masquerade ball warns: "Don't be obvious and come as a Pierrot or Charlie Chaplin. Try to make some inconsequential thing important." My wife suggests I might go as a decimal point. And I suggested I might carry a slice of cheese and go as two pieces of cheese. It goes something like that all day long around this house.

LIQUOR PROBLEM WILL BE STUDIED

Law Enforcement Unit To Review Conditions
In Europe

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Moving on toward completion of a report on prohibition, now the election is on, the president's law enforcement commission today was engaged in a study of liquor conditions abroad.

Besides considering the mass of documentary data accumulated in past months, the commission yesterday began again to hear witnesses. The first, John M. Morehead, American minister to Sweden, gave the members his views regarding the operation in Sweden of the Bratt system of liquor control.

Morehead's appearance and information that the Bratt system was under discussion caused a flurry of excitement and speculation outside the commission rooms until it was learned the Canadian control system and other plans of limited liquor dispensation also are to be studied.

More speculation connected the sudden recall of Prohibition Director Woodcock to the capital with the commission hearings, but there was no indication whether he would appear to tell the members what he has discovered in his extensive travels surveying prohibition enforcement over the country.

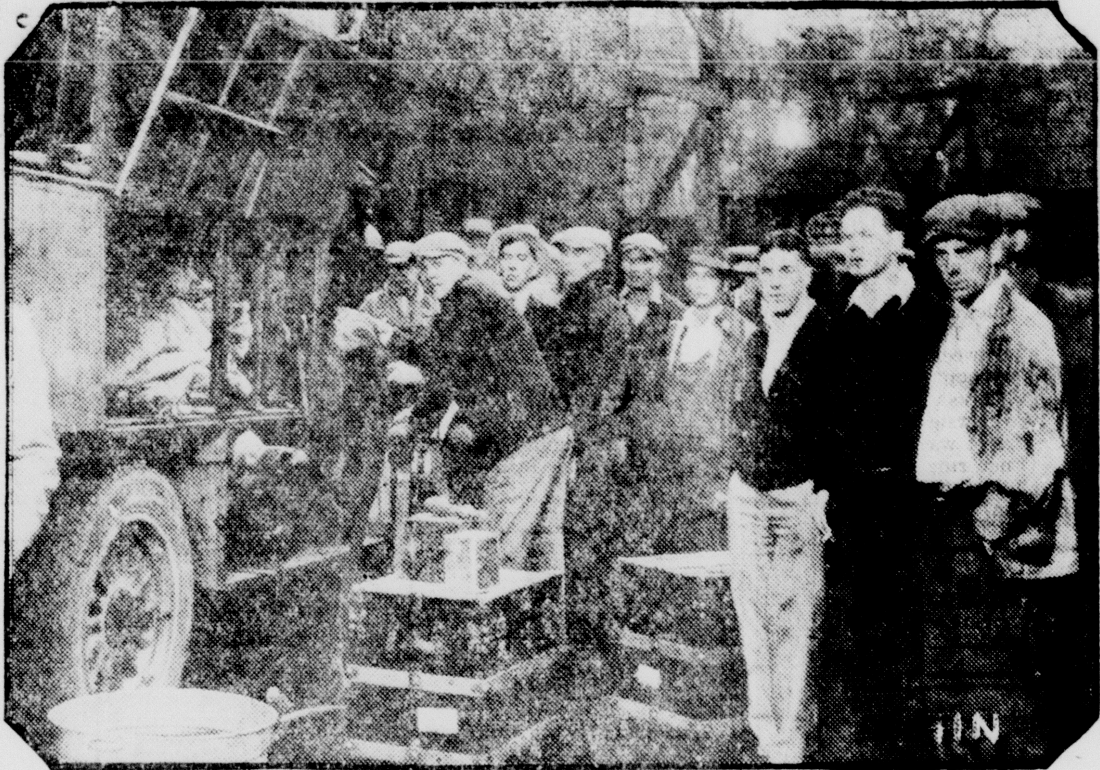

All that was given out about the directors' abandonment of an inspection trip to Hawaii was that Atty Gen. Mitchell wanted from him some information for President Hoover and also wished to discuss appropriations. Just what the president wished to learn could not be ascertained.

Woodcock will be in Washington by Nov. 13.

STALIN HEADS
SOVIET PARADE

Communists Celebrate On Anniversary Of October Day

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—One of the greatest processions of Soviet history marched past Communist and government leaders in Red Square this afternoon in a parade celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of October day, the date on which proletarian uprising had its beginning.

The parade began this morning with infantry leading. Following them were tanks, artillery cavalry and numerous military bands. Civilians marched past by the thousands carrying red banners on which were inscribed words of boasts of Communist successes and execrations of capitalism.

The reviewers, headed by Joseph Stalin, secretary general of the Communist party, which is the real ruler of Russia, Michael Kalinin, president of the central executive committee, Rykov, who is premier and head of the Soviet cabinet, and other important figures such as Ordzhonikidze, Radutskiy, Molotov, Kaganovich, and Kibishev stood at the corner of Lenin's new tomb during the inspection.

They wore no top hats, tail coats or other evidence of the bourgeois, but were dressed simply, most of them in soft shirts or blouses, and lounge suits or in military uniforms. Stalin was in uniform. The reviewers occasionally shouted words of greeting to the marchers, who would shout back "hurrah for the party."

Meanwhile the innumerable bands played the international and other communist music.

Airplanes soared above in formation, while on the streets about the square police had to fight with the enthusiastic mobs which fought to break the restraining cordons. M. Voroshilov, commissar of war, made the only speech to the troops.

Negro Held After Shooting In "Argonne District"

STEUBENVILLE, Nov. 7.—William Martin, 33, negro, is in Steubenville city jail charged with murder and robbery following a night of terrorism here. Chief of Police Rose H. Cunningham says that Martin admits the murder of Mrs. Rose Dixon, 30, colored, at her home after an argument over tobacco smoke and profanity in the kitchen of her home in Steubenville's "Argonne" district, scene of many murders in the past.

Four others were gathered with Mrs. Dixon and Martin in her home when the fatal shooting occurred. Martin fled from the home and went to the waiting rooms of the Steubenville East Liverpool and Beaver Valley traction company and bought a ticket for Beaver in the rear ticket office.

On his way out, he stopped at a confectionery stand operated by J. W. Maistro, produced a revolver and shot into the ceiling. Maistro ducked behind a counter and half a dozen persons in the waiting room scrambled for safety. Martin opened the cash register and scooped $75 from it.

He left the scene of his depredations and Steubenville police broadcast an appeal to police in the district to watch for him. An hour later, Toronto police spotted him on an interurban car. Beaver-bound. They boarded the car and as terrified passengers looked on, disarmed Martin and brought him to Steubenville.

TOLL IN BLAST MAY REACH 81

Bodies Of 79 Miners In Temporary Morgues At Athens

underground tunnels Wednesday afternoon. Their actual inspection, however, probably will not be started before late today or tomorrow, when the last traces of the flames are expected to be cleared from the depths of the mine.

Scores of hushed funeral processions were the only evidences of the disaster today. The feverish activity of the last two days, the constant work of rescue crews, the patrols of the national guard, the dispensing of coffee and blankets and the tension of the waiting crowds had given way. The guardsmen withdrew last night together with most of the Red Cross, Salvation Army and other relief workers as their tasks were ended.

J. J. Forbes Directs Probe
J. J. Forbes, director of the Federal Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh, was in charge of the federal investigation, assisted by W. E. Smith, head of the Ohio Bureau of Mines. Another inquiry was directed by State Director of Industrial Relations, W. T. Black, while Governor L. F. Jones of Athens county planned an inquest sometime today.

Smith said there were two possible causes of the explosion—ignition of either gas or coal dust. An open flame could ignite the gas while coal dust could be set off only by an arc light, he said.

One Explosion
Smith also stated that there could have been only one explosion instead of the two which the surviving miners reported. He explained that when an explosion occurs in a mine, the oxygen is exhausted for quite a distance and the rush of air from both sides to fill the vacuum causes a sort of thunderclap a fraction of a second after the blast. He also said that most of the dead succumbed from black damp rather than directly from the gas.

There still was a possibility that the toll would be increased today. Some of the 29 injured miners were not expected to live and it was feared a few more bodies that might never be recovered remained in the mine. All of those recovered had been identified and claimed last night by their relatives, who were permitted to pass through the make-shift morgues late yesterday.

FIGHT FRAUDS IN PASSPORTS

Government Experts Try To Baffle Wiles Of Forger

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Working with the fine instruments of the counterfeiter, a small group of government experts has just perfected changes in American passports to the hands of documents beyond the reach of fraudulent craftsmen.

To assist extensive tests in its vigorous campaign to stamp out frauds in passports, the state department enlisted the services of experts of the bureau of printing and engraving, counterfeit experts of the treasury and secret service.

The department found one of the principle methods to gain admission used by those unable to enter the United States legally was the substitution of a photograph of the person to whom the passport was issued. To meet this type of fraud, the state department has adopted a perforating machine which prevents such substitutions.

The wiles of the forger and counterfeiter have been successfully met by the adoption of a special type of paper for passports, on which the slightest change by any method known to modern science, can be readily detected.

Immigration officials are now carefully scrutinizing each page on passports to detect any effort to change the document.

Dowling left no will and court officials said his $60,000 would be divided equally by the widow of one son and his other son, Dr. William Dowling, ship physician on the "City of Rotterdam" of the Holland-American steamship line. Dr. Dowling went to New York to aid in the search for his sister-in-law.

KILE WILL FACE MURDER CHARGE

Cantonian Accused Of Slaying Robert G. Sproat In Iowa

(By Associated Press)
Tipton, Pa., Nov. 7.—District Judge John T. McMillan Monday will hear the plea of Wain Kile, of Canton, O., charged with the murder of Robert G. Sproat, Cedar county, Ia., vigilante this summer.

Kile was reported to have confessed participation in the killing, but denied firing the fatal shot. He will be brought here from the Anamosa, Ia., reformatory.

The youth was returned here Sept. 20, after state agent, H. Yackey traced him to his Ohio home. He was identified by a scar on the back of his head received when the auto in which he and his companions were fleeing after the shooting overturned.

In his reputed confession, Kile implicated Jack and Roy McDevens of a wealthy Philadelphia dealer, but they have not been found.

The shooting occurred Aug. 8 when Sproat, Sheriff C. H. Elwood and Constable John Carey attempted to stop a trio fleeing from a $15 drug store holdup at Davenport.

horn players pronounce the Holton French Horn the best playing they have ever tried.

It should be, for it embodies two tremendous improvements.

First, each piston rolls on two jewelled bearings — the same frictionless construction used in a watch.

Second, piston air passages are round, making choking of the bore impossible.

(By United Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 7.—The coast guard cutter Yamacraw today steamed to the aid of the merchant ship and mine layer freighter S. S. Upshur, which late last night sent out a radio SOS saying she was "hopelessly disabled."

The Upshur reported its engine disabled "beyond repair" and said the ship was in danger of sinking.

Position given by the Upshur was 10 miles off Jupiter light, off the Florida coast. The Yamacraw was at Charleston, S. C., when the distress message was received.

The Upshur is the newest of the M. & M. fleet, plying between Miami, West Palm Beach and Jacksonville. It is 251 feet long and of 2,500 tons capacity.

GRANDI REPORT BRINGS DENIAL

Foreign Minister Has Not Resigned, Declares Rome Office

(By Associated Press)
ROME, Nov. 7.—The foreign office today denied stories emanating from Geneva and published in Vienna and London that Dino Grandi, foreign minister, had resigned. The foreign office termed the reports "completely false."

While Fascist party authorities said they were ridiculous.

The foreign office at the same time denied reports published in the United States that Grandi had been jailed for complicity in an anti-government, anti-Mussolini plot. It was said that nothing resembling such a movement had been discovered. Arrests of Bartolo Deotti, former minister, and Prof. Giuseppe Rossi and his wife in connection with chain letters denouncing the government were termed isolated instances.

Commentary observers pointed out that Grandi was one of the staunchest of Premier Mussolini's henchmen, that he was instrumental in events leading to the march on Rome, and that he had never wavered in his complete devotion to the Fascist cause.

FURRIER SLAIN IN AUTOMOBILE

Body Found With Bullet Wound In Head; Woman Sought

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—A bullet fired by an unknown person killed Samuel Bauer, wealthy furrier, last night as he sat in his automobile parked near an apartment hotel on the north side.

Detectives said they had worked on a theory of suicide but after several hours of investigation announced that they were seeking Mrs. Vera Thompson, 35 years old. The detectives said they had been informed that Mrs. Thompson had called on Dr. Andrew L. Stapler about 9 p. m. for treatment of two bullet wounds, but fled when the doctor notified police.

Bauer's body was found shortly after 8 p. m. There was a bullet wound in his head. On the floor of the car was a pistol with one discharged cartridge. One of the rear windows of the car was shattered, apparently by a bullet. Another bullet was lodged in one of the machine's doors.

George Sali and Irving Ferdinand, who were standing near the hotel entrance, told police they had heard four shots and had seen someone dart from through the rear door of the automobile, but they were unable to say if it had been a man or a woman. Two girls in a nearby apartment told the police they saw two forms leap from the car and disappear down an alley.

Bauer was married and was the father of two children.

LOOT 3 HOTELS IN CLEVELAND

Four Gunmen Rob 500 Guests, Cash Registers And Flew In Car

(By International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—Making the rounds of three Cleveland hotels in rapid-fire order, four gunmen rifled the pockets of 150 guests and emptied the hotel cash drawers of a loot estimated at $1,000 here today.

The gunmen obtained $450 in cash from William Barbour, cashier at the Hotel Belmont, and noted golf star.

Police radio cruisers were placed on the trail of the bandits after the Belmont holdup but the robbers proceeded to the other hotels and after robbing the guests and emptying the cash drawers, the robbers made good their escape from the police.

Large Crowd Of Salem Fans To Witness South Game Saturday

IMPORTANT CONTESTS SCHEDULED ON OHIO GRIDS SATURDAY

THE DAY In Sports

THE COACH AND HIS JOB
FANS INCREASE TASK

When Sam Willaman succeeded Dr. John Wiley as head football coach at Ohio State the Columbus coach's coaching aggregation was divided as to the Scarlet and Gray's future in football. Many predicted the former Salem High grid star's regime would be short and it was even rumored that fans in Columbus refused to cooperate with him because of their lack of faith in the new mentor. The fact is true in almost every college in the United States where a new coach, high school or college, is appointed. Fans make it tougher for a coach than such a job should be. Co-operation of the school's alumni and the city's fandom is essential to the success of a football team and the coach's work. There are a few coaches who have developed winning teams without standing in with the fans but they are in the minority.

Ohio State's success last season, Willaman's first at Ohio State, is regarded as only fair. This year was pointed to as the season in which Willaman was to have his great team but ineligibility of a trio of backfield stars he developed last year, along with the marriage of two regulars who left the team and graduation of several 1929 mainstays has proved a serious handicap to Salem Sam. The fact that Wesley Fesler is able to play just about any position on the team has been the greatest asset to the Ohioans.

There are few coaches in the country that have had such a succession of difficulties as Willaman. But the future looks bright and it is safe to predict that Sam will be a winner in 1931. Salem fans hope for a conference winner.

Ohio State, in two games this season, out-gained the opposition and did everything better except at crossing the goal-line. The team was held without a touchdown in both contests and fans criticized this "lack of a scoring punch." Victories aren't won on first downs and when your own favorite registers more than the opponent something is wrong with the team you claim. Just study these facts:

Akron West this season outplayed Salem High in every department of the game, threatened to score several times but was trimmed by a 14-0 score. In first downs Akron's invaders held a big edge. Salem fans lauded the great defensive strength of their team and not a word was said about West's poor scoring punch.

Salem High outplayed Canton McKinley for more than three quarters led most of the game and threatened to score within Canton's five-yard-line five different times. Canton won the game by a 26-9 score and fans here howled for weeks about the Red and Black's terrible scoring punch. Not a word was said about Canton's great defense which stood back on its own goal, to withstand the line rushes of French, Smith, Beck and Rees.

Not much difference in these two games except that Salem won one and lost the other.

As has been brought out before, the same is true in baseball. If the home team is ahead one run, the visitors have three men on base with none out and still fail to score, wonderful fielding and defensive playing is proclaimed as the reason for the victory. But, if the home team has three men on base, none out and is one or two runs behind, then it is to score, weak hitting and inability to come through in the pinch forms basis of a vicious onslaught on the home lads by fandom.

A thousand hopeful Salem fans will trek to South stadium at Youngstown to witness Coach Stone's crippled gridders battle South High. Word comes today that Bill Smith and Harold Hackett will be able to start while Carpenter will not be in uniform.

We pick Salem to win.

Rajah Gets Baecht From Los Angeles

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Rogers Hornsby, one of the shrewdest of baseball men has admitted he missed one when he thought Ed Baecht wasn't much of a pitcher, when Baecht asked the Rajah for a job four years ago.

Hornsby yesterday approved a deal with the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, in which Baecht, a right-hander, will come to the Cubs in exchange for a bundle of cash and seven players. Catcher John Schulte, infielder, Edgar Farrell, Pitcher Al Shealy, another pitcher, to be named later, will be turned over to the Angels at once and three more will be sent on option.

Beecht worked in 49 games last season, winning 26 and losing only 12 decisions. His strikeout record was 187 in 362 innings.

BEND ORE.—Burl Graham kicked both verbally and physically, said his wife in court. Instead of a divorce, the judge, fined him $50 per kick.

Quakers Still Hope To Win Despite Crippled Condition Of Varsity

With hard luck continually trailing them through the season, as far as injuries are concerned, a battling Salem High team, supported by an enthusiastic and hopeful gathering of approximately 1,000 fans from this city, will invade the home battlegrounds of Youngstown South High, rated as one of the most formidable aggregations in the Mahoning Valley district, Saturday.

Injuries have placed three varsity gridders of the Red and Black on the casualty list. One of the players, Jack Carpenter, may play no more football the rest of this season, but in face of these handicaps the Salem aggregation is still hopeful of being able to batter the Southmen for a decisive grid victory.

Salem Team Hopeful
The Red and Black gridders refuse to concede the Youngstown team the edge in the coming battle. Like all football players they cling to hopes to the end and will be striving to bring home their school's seventh consecutive victory.

The largest crowd of Salem fans to trek to a grid contest in three seasons is expected to attend the contest. Fans from this city will in all probability outnumber Youngstown town fandom at the contest, for while that battle is of utmost importance to this city and its football team, two other games of great import to Mahoning county are being played on neighboring gridirons.

At Rayen High's field the Rayenites will oppose New Castle, Pa. High's highly thought of team while Steubenville, undefeated and with its goal-line as yet uncrossed, clashes with Youngstown Chaney at Girard. Each of these contests, a great attraction in itself, will attract 5,000 fans while not more than half that number are anticipated at the Salem-South fracas.

Looms As Great Battle
There is every indication that the latter game will be as fine a contest to watch from the spectators' stands as any in Ohio this weekend. Both teams are traditional rivals and while South will be seeking vengeance for the 14-12 defeat sustained at Reilly stadium last season, the Red and Black will be battling to maintain its superiority in district grid competition. If Salem wins the verdict in this contest it will mark the team's 18th victory out of 19 starts.

Because of the injuries sustained by Carpenter, Bill Smith and Harold Hackett in this week's workouts, the probable starting lineup is a matter of grave uncertainty. Smith and Hackett may be able to appear in uniform and probably will, but whether they will be able to start the game will not be known until an examination is made of their injuries before the game. Hackett has been bothered with a bad knee of the season while Smith had ligaments in his knee torn loose Tuesday night, the injury originating in the Wellsville game.

Light Workout Thursday
Light workout prevailed at Centennial park Thursday evening for Stone appears to be content that his team has reached its peak in condition, a factor that has been a great asset to the team in its campaigns since Stone took over the coaching responsibilities here. Were it not for the injuries to his lads, despite the fact that South trimmed Youngstown East 20-0 and Salem lugged out a 14-6 victory over the same opposition, both teams would enter the battle on even terms.

South may hold a heavy edge on paper but then the Red and Black is known as a team that comes through against greatest of odds and is an aggregation that maintains that it has a chance for victory as long as the game goes on.

Stone sent his lads to a disappointing victory over South last year. South started out by scoring two touchdowns early in the game. In a sensational comeback, climaxed by a reception of a forward pass in mid-air by a group of South players by Bill Smith, the Red and Black won out.

South Rates High
South, as a result of its victories over East and Portsmouth by overwhelming scores, is rated as one of the district's toughest grid combines and will clash with Chaney in the city titular battle at Youngstown Turkey day. Salem teams have trimmed South gridders only twice in 12 seasons and have scored on the opposing school in only three games.

West Invades East
The big westward movement by four western teams started yesterday. Michigan's squad was given a tremendous sendoff as it left for Cambridge, Mass., to play the second game of its home-and-home series with Harvard. The team was at its best strength and was almost confident of making it two in a row over the Crimson.

Knute Rockne did not sing his blues song as he heeded his 38 Notre Dame warriors, aboard the train for Philadelphia. He said the team was in excellent shape, physically and mentally and "on paper, figures to win."

The Illinois and Ohio State squads were not so optimistic as they started for their games with the Army and Navy, respectively. The Illinois had hope of finally getting started after losing three straight major contests, but did not look strong enough to beat the cadets. Ohio State, with numerous cripples, was only an out-side bet to defeat the Navy.

IOWA BATTLES MARQUETTE IN LEADING TILT

Only Prospect Of Stiff Contest Appears In Milwaukee Grid

NORTHWESTERN TO USE REVAMP TEAM

Chicago's Chances For Victory Over Purdue Extremely Low

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The only prospect for a real battle on the middlewest's meager football schedule tomorrow is the meeting of Iowa and Marquette at Milwaukee. Chicago's chance of even staying close to Purdue is so slight as to be "unnoticeable," and Indiana's chance of stopping Northwestern is about the same size. South Dakota does not figure to defeat Minnesota, and South Dakota State stacks up no better against Wisconsin.

Marquette Strong
The Hawkeyes, however, inspired by an unexpected victory over the University of Detroit last week, will run into the sternest kind of opposition in Marquette.

Northwestern will send a patched-up backfield against Indiana, but will have its regulars, with the exception of Pug Rentner, available if needed. Lench will be at quarter. Hank Bruder and Al Moore at halves, and Bob Russell at full. The Hoosiers only hope was to keep the score close.

Coach Stagg has done nothing but work on defense all week, and it is evident he will be satisfied if Chicago keeps Purdue from running wild.

Ohio University Will Oppose Denison; Miami Clashes With Wesleyan

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—With Ohio State safely out of the way as far as being a counter-attraction is concerned, Ohio's college football teams are gathering for battle on all fronts and an important week-end is in prospect.

The Buckeye conference situation is expected to be somewhat lower after tomorrow as Ohio Wesleyan, the co-leader, and undisputed favorite for the championship, plays Denison at Athens and should take a runaway victory, its second in the league.

Ohio Wesleyan and Miami probably will find after the season ends that they played off for second place in the final standing. They meet at Oxford tomorrow with the Bishops favored to win but by no great margin.

Important Game
Miami considers the game the most important on its schedule and cannot hope for a successful season with a victory in it. Ohio Wesleyan, having won the last two Miami games, considers this one secondary only to its closing battle with Ohio University and will spare nothing to win it. The Bishops have some trick stuff they have been holding back for just this occasion.

Cincinnati meets Marietta, an Ohio conference college, and should win but probably by no great margin.

Including the Ohio Wesleyan-Miami tilt, the most important games in Ohio will be played between Dayton and Xavier at Cincinnati, between Muskingum and Wooster at Wooster, and between Oglesby and Wittenberg at Springfield.

Dayton-Xavier Game
The Dayton-Havies edge looks like a toss-up with perhaps a shade on Dayton's side.

Muskingum has a definite edge on Wooster but it is doubtful if they can maintain it until the game is over. Last year Muskingum won 21 to 19 in the last few minutes. This year the Muskies are stronger, but Coach Boles has finally got his team to clicking and the result may be a surprise.

Wittenberg scheduled a real football team in Oglesby. The Springfield team has been scoring poorly and will need all the punch it can muster.

Oberlin and Western Reserve are old rivals but Reserve probably will emphasize the superiority it has been showing in late years.

Keit Meets Capital
Kent, perhaps Capital's most dangerous foe, meets the undefeated Bexley boys and may be the team which observers have been expecting all along will whip Capital.

Mount Union and Kenyon should have a sweet battle, another Ohio conference affair, and the same goes for Hiram and Baldwin-Wallace although both are weak teams. Hiram has yet to score a point but should do so against Baldwin-Wallace even if the game can't be won.

Case meets Akron and should lose again. Otterbein is a set-up for Ashland. Findlay, which scheduled the College of the City of Detroit after Ohio Northern cancelled because of too many injuries, probably will regret it. John Carroll is in for a bad beating at the hands of Western Maryland, one of the best teams in the east, while Wilmington ought to beat Cedarville for the second time this season.

Culver, St. John's In Benefit Clash
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., and St. John's Military of Delafield, Wis., both undefeated this season, will play a charity football game in Soldier Field Stadium tomorrow.

The receipts will be turned over to the American Legion and will be used in relief work for World War veterans.

At the State

"LILITH"
Admirers of Charles Farrell will have an opportunity to see and hear what has been acclaimed his best work to date in "Lilith" now playing at the State Theatre.
The story is the Fox Movietone adaptation of Franz Mettner's immortal drama of the same name, which vividly dramatizes the love of a timid servant girl for a tough carnival barker.
Farrell enacts the role of "Lilith," the barker, and Rose Hobart, a newcomer from Broadway plays his young wife. H. B. Warner, Estelle Taylor and Lee Tracy enact the other featured roles.
Frank Borzage, who directed Farrell in five of his fame winning characters, including "Chico" in "7th Heaven" and "Gino" in "Street Angel," directed this production.

At The Grand

"LOVE IN THE ROUGH"
Robert Montgomery, featured player, and Dorothy Jordan, feminine lead, in "Love in the Rough," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's musical comedy romance which will open tonight at the Grand theatre, are perhaps the youngest players in pictures to attain their prominence.

Both Montgomery and Miss Jordan entered films a year ago after leaving the New York stage. Montgomery's rise was rapid after his debut in "So This Is College" and he last played in "The Day After Tomorrow" and "Our Burning Bridges." Miss Jordan played opposite Ramon Novarro in his three talking pictures, "Devil May Care," "In Gay Madrid" and "Call of the Flesh," which just finished its run at the Grand.

Although strictly a musical comedy—with plenty of music and oodles of comedy—the picture is refreshingly free of dancing chorus intrusions, substituting clever ensemble routine credited to the skillful Sammy Lee. Both Montgomery and Miss Jordan sing and dance pleasingly, their dual numbers exceptionally well presented and devoid of stage artificiality and device. We know people don't generally stare at dancing and the golf links but when they do in this entertaining film it seems quite all right and natural enough.

At the Royal

"THE PARADE OF THE WEST"
Snapping with action, humming with the old west and seething with romance and adventure, "The Parade of the West," Universal all-talking production starring Ken Maynard, now playing at the Royal Theatre, is a splendid example of the entertainment value of a good western picture. Also it shows the refreshing new twist added to western pictures by the advent of sound.
The picture, thrilling and entertaining in itself, is lifted far out of the class of the ordinary by the songs and music by Maynard and members of the cast, old-time western favorites like "The Chisholm Trail," "Down in Union County," and "Sally Got a Wooden Leg."

HOME-MAKING HELPS

Winter Drapes

Why do we swathe windows in thick, opaque draperies in winter and gay, light fabrics in summer? questioned a new housekeeper.

There is something paradoxical about this habit—although, of course, there are plenty of explanations, some of which may begood. Heavy window drapes in winter are a survival of the times when they were needed as extra protection against hidden draughts, sweeping through crevices and imperfectly closed windows. Also, heavy draperies give an impression of warmth, the kind of cozy warmth proceeding from an open fire.

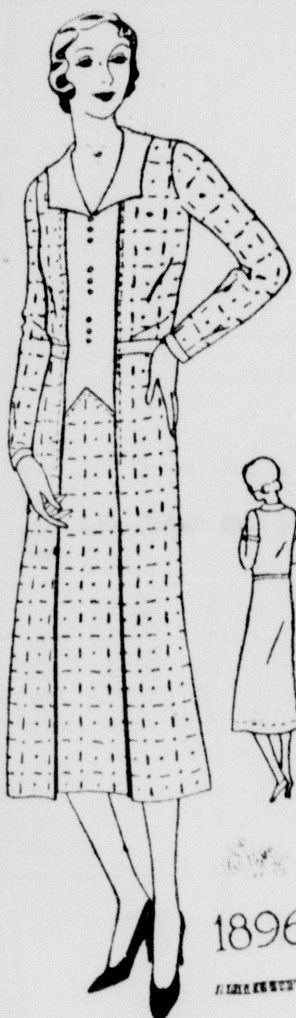

But the objection against some kinds of heavy draperies is that they cut down the amount of precious little sunlight is still valid. And where there are children who rarely get enough sunshine in the cities anyway—every bit of light needs to be captured, not veiled.

Many cretonne fabrics will provide the warmth of color in their design, and yet not be so heavy as to obscure light. The light filters through the bright yellows, and in any case the curtains should be of the draw variety—providing a strip of brightness against the woodpanelling of the windows, without being draped over the pane. Bright glass curtains of cream, pale yellow or white, if not too closely woven, will cover the pane and not block the sunlight.

Venetian blinds, which, even when drawn, let plenty of light filter in and yet provide decent shading of the window, are coming into favor again. These thin slats which can be pulled up or down easily, are rather ingenious, though they do give complete shade over a window, so that the room cannot be seen from the outside, nevertheless, the wide spaces between the slats permit plenty of light and air to circulate.

For kitchen windows, where one needs the maximum of light, there

Today's Pattern

Designed especially with the larger figure in mind, this model lengthens and slenderizes with its long front panel and cleverly pointed vestee. Sleeves may be made long or short, whichever you prefer.

Pattern 1896 makes up best in durable, washable fabrics such as gingham, percale, cotton broadcloth, rayon, etc. A gaily printed fabric trimmed with white, or a color predominating in the design will be most becoming. Tiny pearl buttons trim the vestee.

May be obtained only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

are thin side curtains—just to provide a splash of color, and a valance on top for the same reason. These curtains need not be of generous width—narrow ones will be ample enough to supply a cheery touch. Or if the kitchen window faces a pleasant outlook, curtains may interfere in that case, one of the new colorful window shades may take their place. The window is left free during the day and the brightly patterned shades are drawn at night.

COLUMBIANA

A staff of high school students under the leadership of Fred Detweiler, editor-in-chief, is making preparations for the publication of the first copy of the "C. H. S. Review," the new school paper. Six issues will be published during the school year, the last taking the place of the Senior Annual.

Mrs. John Ryan, Jr., and Mrs. David Lodge entertained Wednesday evening at the former's home, W. Park avenue, with a surprise party in honor of the birthday anniversary of Miss Helen Lodge. Three tables of bridge were in play, after which a two-course luncheon was served at small tables with yellow and white appointments. Miss Lodge was the recipient of many gifts. Miss Mildred Lodge, Alliance was among the guests.

Coach Mead Atkins of the C. H. S. football team is using East Palestine plays for his scrub team this week, in attempting to bolster up an adequate defense for the hard-hitting visitors. An interesting sidelight of the game to be held here Saturday is the fact that Assistant Coach Waldo Ward is a former East Palestine player, and his brother, William Ward, is the East Palestine faculty manager and a former coach.

John Ryan, Sr., is spending a week with his mother, Mrs. E. A. Ryan at Paulding, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hany and family have moved from the Beard property, N. Main street, to the Arnold house on W. Main street.

Walter Trever, N. Lima, was a local business caller Wednesday afternoon.

Evan Heller was in Alliance on business Wednesday morning.

C. F. Stewart, New Springfield, was a local business visitor Wednesday morning.

Fred Kaercher, Youngstown, was in Columbiana Wednesday.

Ohio Boy is Strongest

"My son, Lawrence, suffered with his stomach and bowels until he was quite listless and weak," says Mrs. L. H. Fieth, 1418 East 88th St., Cleveland.

"Now it's a different story as you can see from his picture. He's strong and full of life. I give California Fig Syrup a lot of credit for his condition. It increased his appetite, helped him wonderfully. Since then I have used California Fig Syrup myself with benefit as a laxative."

To show how California Fig Syrup acts to build up and strengthen half-sick, headachy, constipated children through giving tone and strength to weak stomach and bowels, nothing could be more convincing than praise like this.

Your doctor will approve the use of this pure vegetable product—as often as an impure breath, coated tongue, listlessness, feverishness or lack of appetite warn of constipation—or to keep bowels from clogging during colds or children's diseases.

When buying, look for the word "California" on carton and bottle. That marks the genuine.

Action Without Harm Whenever Constipated

Here's a way to be rid of constipation and its ills—a way that works quickly, effectively, but gently.
 The candy Cascaet at night—the next morning you're feeling fine. Breathe is sweetened, tongue clear, eyes bright, head clear, dizziness, nausea, vanish. Repeat the treatment two or three nights to get the souring waste out of your system. See how appetite and energy return; how digestion improves.
 The action of Cascaet is sure, complete, helpful to everyone. They are made from cascara, which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. All drug stores have the box.
